By the Grace of G-d Rosh Chodesh Tammuz, 5746. Brooklyn, N.Y.

To the Esteemed Faculty Members of Cornell University and Ithaca College, Signatories to Letter of June 1, 1986

Greeting and Blessing:

This is in reply to your abovementioned letter, in which you describe the hitherto highly successful Chabad activities in your community and express deep concern that they be continued, etc.

No doubt you know that the said activities, as also in several other campuses in the region, are conducted as branches of the Chabad organization in Buffalo, under the administration of Rabbi Nosson Gurary. Therefore you have to take the matter up with him, and he will surely give it his utmost attention.

It so happens that Rabbi Guracy was due to visit here these days, which is also one of the reasons why the present letter has been delayed.

At any rate, I was particularly gratified to note how closely you have been involved with the Chabad activities in your community. Your profound concern for the future of Yiddishkeit among your students and in the community at large, gives me the confidence that you, on your part, will do your utmost to ensure the continuation of these activities and their steady expansion.

I trust you do not underestimate your personal influence that is inherent in your respective prominent positions in the community and, especially among the academic youth. It is a prevalent experience, human nature being what it is, that students are loften strongly influenced by the example of their professors' everyday life and conduct regardless of the academic field that brought them together. This being so, each of you will surely readily recognize your special responsibility - and extraordinary Z'chus - that HaShem has given you, individually and as a group, to help the young people who are fortunate to be exposed to your influence to reinforce their identity with our Jewish people and its eternal heritage; and, with emphasis on the basic principle of Yiddishkeit that "the essential thing is the deed," to actually strengthen their commitment to the way of the Torah and Mitzvos in their personal life and conduct.

Needless to say, HaShem does not bestow a responsibility on anyone without providing the ability to carry it out in the fullest measure, with joy and gladness of heart.

A propos of the incoming month of Tammuz, the Geulo month of my father-in-law the Rebbe of saintly memory, I trust you know the history and lasting significance of this anniversary (12th-13th of Tammuz). The lifelong example of his real Mesiras Nefesh that permeated all his activities in his native land and beyond, including the last decade of his life in the USA, is a source of inspiration and strength to all of us who are privileged to be associated with, and continue, his sacred work. Indeed, we have his assurance of HaShem's blessings for Hatzlocho in this, which also widens the "channels and vessels" for HaShem's blessings in all personal needs, both materially and spiritually.

With esteem and blessing, and hoping to hear good news from you in all above W. Leavis

Dear Rabbi Silberstein,

I want to thank you warmly for the copy of the bi-lingual edition of the TANYA. It is a beautiful sefer, and I am very happy to have it and look forward to my study of the great classic.

I know that you meant the sefer to be a gift, and I accept it as such, with my warm thanks. But now I wish to make a very small gift to Habad, and I beg you to accept the enclosed check as a small token of my regArd for the work of Habad.

Hoping to see you soon and with kind regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Rabbi Eli,

I just wanted to send you a short note to thank you for your kindness and encouragement throughout my stay here at Cornell.

I feel that your presence on campus fills a niche in the Ithaca Jewish community that neither the local synagogue nor the Cornell Hillel Foundation can fill.

You have shown me that Judaism is more than just a dry set of laws and commandments but a vital living religion that must be experienced in both a formal ecclesiastic way and a warm personal way.

The shabbat dinners I have had in your home with you and your family have served as an example that I hope to follow in my own household.

I hope you and Chabad House remain an active part of the Jewish community here in Ithaca.

Respectfully,

Shimon (Scott) Snyder

Dear Eli and Chana,

Now that Heshvan is here and we have some time off from holiday preparations, we want to thank you for all you have done in the past few months. We never could have made it through in one piece without all your help.

Not just Young Israel, but the community as well, would like to thank you for your hospitality on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Owing to the state of disarray of our kitchen at the time, the festive meals at your house really saved the day, as well as gave many of us a holiday atmosphere that we don't often experience. Several students who had never before sat at a Hasidic table have commented on the experience and are eager to return and learn some more. Sukkot was a great success too — we're tempted to take credit for your infamous "Sukkah mobile" in front of Willard Straight Hall! Several people have suggested building a stationary one there next year. Many thanks for your help and advice concerning our own sukkah, and especially for the party you hosted in it. Some of us had never before eaten in a sukkah, or even shaken a lulav and etrog. Your party brought some new faces down to the House, faces that have since become familiar.

One last thing — the House wants to thank you for the learning that you've been helping us with, both at Seudah Shlisheet and during the rest of the week. We've had several students ask about learning, or setting up a chevrusa, possibly before the end of the semester, if you have the time. And a few of the women are interested in studying with Chana on Shabbat afternoons.

So, once again, thank you for all your time and effort — we do appreciate it, even if we don't always show it, and we're looking forward to more, G-d willing. The campus-wide Hanukah party is coming up, and before we know it, it will be Pesaḥ!

Take care and be well!

Sincerely yours,

Scott Weiner
